The wenderful events that are new transpiring in this country, upon which the eyes of the world are fixed, render a good newspaper a necessity in every infelligent family.

Thankful for the increasing patronne that has attended their efforts to make the Ohio State Journal a First Class Family Newspaper the Publishers are prompted to confinued efforts in the direction of progress and improve-It is their aim to make the Journal a cor plate compendium of nows, a charte and pleasant fireside companion, a faithful market guide, a marless and trusted expenses of po-litical matters, a punctual chronicles of Leg-islating and Congressional proceedings; suff in hort a weekly summary of events in the political, social, religious, scientific and commer-cial world. With this end in view, it will contain a full sumulary of current news, Conregesional Reports, Legislative Proceedings Market Reports (Poreign and Domestic), the latest Telegraphic Dispatches, Political Intelligence, Literary Gossip, Choice Poetry,-original and sefected Buitofiels on Chrient l'oples, Stories, Sketches, etc.

Due attention will also be given to Agricul-ture and Educational affairs. The News Department will embrace the latest Foreign and Domestic Intelligence, received by mail and telegraph, carefully collated, down to the hour of going to press.

The War for the Union will be faithfully chronicled, each important event down to the intest moment being presented, with full de-tails of Bariles, and of Military and Naval The Onic State Journal, now, as herecofore, will heartily agetain the Administration in its efforts to put down the existing frateiglas rebellion against the best and freest governmen on earth. In doing this, it easy be called upon at times, to speak plainly; but it will always speak upon the conviction of duty, and never as an adulator of men in high places; and it will not besitate to strip, the rules from traitors and sympathizers with rebellion, who close their treasonable sentiments under the hypocritical cry of a peace that is to be obtained only by compromise with rebels in

A New Physician.

By reference to our advertising columns this week, it will be seen that Dr. A. H. Brundage proposes to permanently locate himself in the city of Xonia for the practice of medicine and surgery. The Dector has served in the army three years, in the capacity, we believe, of regimental surgeon. As will be seen by adversisement, he brings home the very highest recommunications as to his professional skill. We cordially recommend him to our pations.

Our readers will find in our columns to-day the advertisement of FIRERY & MILBORS, successors to Mr. J. F. Patten in the Drug Business. This house is the old and reliable one of Xenia. Mr. Charles Vigns, one of the oldest, and most reliable druggists in the city, is retained in the establishment. His reputation for skill and disputch in business is well carned and well sustained.

The weather has been exceedingly wintry for the past week. And appearing changed sometimes several times in one day. A brief "recapitulation of the events of the last week's campaign" may not be uninteresting. On Friday morning of last week our citizens found the sidewalks burried in snow to the depth of not less than twelve inches. It was the work of half-a-day to clear them. Relieving the side walks of their load filled up the street not quite as high as the top of ateed in snow up to their hips. Steighing was good on Saturday and Sunday. On Monday the weather got into a "melting mood," Rain fell copiously. To-day (Tuesday) the snow is coming down in heaps. A whole

The soldier sleeps his fast long sleep; His friends in auguish o'er him weep; For his country's flag, his life he gave; He is alsoping now in an honored grave. No more at the bugle's call he'll come, Or murch to music of the drum; His voice is hushed, his spirit's fied. Abl yes, he's numbered with the dead. Rest, soldier, rest, "thy warfare's o'er." No more you'll hear the cannon's roar, No night alarms disturb your breast, Then sweetly slumber, sweetly rest, Ah! how and the thought to those Kind friends at home; ah! yes, who knows The depths of sorrow hearts must feel? But God alone the wound can heal. The noble heroe patriot feil. His work is done; he did it well. His award is sheathed; let it remain, He ne'er will take it up again. His friends and comrades speak his fame; Forever honored be his name! Although we feel his loss is gres Henven has thus decreed his fate; Priends will drop affection's tears. The lapse of months or lapse of years, Shall not banish from the mind, Thy many acts of love so kind. When war is o'er and victory won, We'll think of thee, the absent one, In years to come when once again, Sweet peace shall universal reign.

And when this toilsome life shall end, When all earth's sorrows shall be past, We hope to meet in heaven at last,
